Dear Applicant

Thank you for your enquiry. Below is the application pack for the Counselling and Wellbeing Service Manager post.

Completed application forms must reach Centre 70 by post, hand delivery or email by 12 noon Wednesday 18 September 2019. If you need to include extra sheets, please ensure that such sheets are clearly headed with your name. Curriculum Vitae will not be accepted. The interviews are scheduled for Wednesday 25 September 2018 so you may want to provisionally book that day off if you need to give notice.

We will only contact candidates who are shortlisted and cannot provide feedback on those who are not. We will contact shortlisted candidate on the closing day or within a few days. We will also provide details of any presentation that we may want you to prepare.

This is an opportunity to join a dynamic and developing Counselling and Wellbeing service.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely

Martin Beard
Chair of Board of Trustees

ABOUT CENTRE 70

Centre 70 (C70) was set up in 1970 and comprises an Advice Centre and a Counselling Service. For more details of C70 see <http://centre70.org.uk> and <https://youtu.be/KB2WLsMaYeo>

We pride ourselves on our commitment to providing quality assured advice and counselling services delivered to the needs of the community and with efficiency to maximise the numbers helped.

We provide free and low cost psychotherapeutic counselling. Centre 70 benefits from having a number of projects to which clients can be referred including specialist Debt, Housing and Benefits projects and a dedicated Utilities Debt advice project (switching, discounts, grants advice). C70 are Foodbank holders. As a result, we can provide a holistic wrap around service to clients and provide crisis help and deal with underlying causes of the issues towards sustainable solutions.

We are BACP accredited. We hold LEXCEL legal practice quality mark.

We have active and monitored policies and procedures, which determine the framework under which the work is carried out and to maintain quality assured standards, which include Equalities and Diversity, Confidentiality, Complaints, GDPR, Disability Discrimination, Health and Safety, Safeguarding, Sustainability, Training & Development, Business Continuity, Supervision and File review, and Personnel Policies.

We have a friendly and committed staff team of Director, Head of Advice Services, solicitor, caseworkers and advice workers, administration staff and accountant. In addition, we have volunteer lawyers. A dedicated and active voluntary management committee, drawn from people who live in the local community and surrounds, oversee the management of the organisation.

OUR MISSION

We support adults who are facing social, mental, financial or other personal difficulties at our centre and out in their communities, through a holistic programme of free and affordable services:

Advice

Counselling

Training

Advocacy

OUR VALUES

Passionate, Inclusive, Responsive & Community focussed

OUR IMPACT

- Increased access to rights and entitlements
- Improved mental health and wellbeing
- Improved access to life opportunities

COUNSELLING AND WELLBEING MANAGER POST

The Manager's role is to effectively manage and co-ordinate the operation of the counselling and wellbeing service, including recruiting and managing the volunteer counsellors and supervisors. The Manager will also be expected to contribute to the work of developing and supporting the service by liaising with other agencies and supporting fund raising initiatives. The manager will also take an active role in developing the service to meet the strategic aims of the wider organisation, and needs of the community.

The Counselling Service is a BACP accredited service that currently includes 2 counselling projects, a low cost service, where fees are determined on a sliding scale based on household income, and the Inspire Project which offers free counselling to people experiencing multiple disadvantages who are unable to afford the low cost service. Clients are able to self-refer, and we also take referrals from health and community agencies.

The orientation of the counselling offered is integrative, incorporating psychodynamic and person centred counselling approaches. The service has 5 paid supervisors, who hold recognised supervisor qualifications.

Income for the counselling service comes from client fees and the service also receives support from Centre 70's general finance. The Inspire project is funded by trust funding from City Bridges and the Tudor Trust. Funding will be sought for the expansion of the service in the next 2 years. That could include an increase in the post's weekly hours.

The counselling service presently offers counselling on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays between 10.00 am and 9.00 pm, and on Fridays between 10.00 am and 5.00 pm. The counselling office is open on Tuesdays Wednesday and Thursday between 9.00 am and 4.00 pm. The manager will be expected to spread their working hours over these days.

Training, Supervision & Support

All workers receive:

- Induction programme
- Supervision and support from experienced manager/supervisor
- Annual training & in house training
- Annual appraisal
- Opportunities for flexible working including home working with remote access to computer system, compression of hours etc.

In addition, the Counselling and Wellbeing Service Manager will have the opportunity to benefit from paid external supervision on a fortnightly schedule by an experienced clinical supervisor, as well as support from members of the Trustee Counselling Subgroup.

Guidance notes on completion of application form, short-listing and interview

The recruitment panel will only consider information contained in your application form and will assess this against the person specification when deciding who to short list for interview. It is therefore very important that you complete the form clearly and that you provide as much information as possible.

Enclosed you will see a person specification for the job. This lists the essential requirements for the post. The Supporting Statement section of the application form is the most important part of your application. You will not be shortlisted unless you have clearly demonstrated how your skill, knowledge and experience meet the essential requirements of the person specification. You should go through the essential requirements point by point (using the numbering/lettering) and, drawing on your current and past work experience, voluntary work, training, knowledge, skills and life experiences, show how you meet each essential requirement by addressing each in turn. You should be clear and concise and limit your statement to no more than four sides of A4.

If you are short-listed, you will be invited to an interview where the questions will directly relate to the person specification. You may be required to take a short test/s relating to the skills required for the job. The test/s will enable you to demonstrate your knowledge.

How we use personal data – information for Job Applicants

Please see C70 general privacy statement on our website link (please ask if you would like a paper copy)

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is effective from May 25, 2018. For further information on your rights you can contact The Information Commissioner's Office www.ico.gov.uk

Under GDPR, EU data subjects are entitled to exercise the following rights:

- Right of Access: Find out what kind of personal information is held about you and get a copy of this information.
- Right of Rectification: Ask for your information to be updated or corrected.
- Right to Data Portability: Receive a copy of the information which we have.
- Right to Restrict Use: Ask for your personal information to stop being used in certain cases, including if you believe that the personal information about you is incorrect or the use is unlawful.
- Right to Object: Objecting to use of your information (where a party is processing it on legitimate interest basis) and to have your personal information deleted.
- Right to Erasure: In certain circumstances, you may also have your personal information deleted.

Controllers determine how personal data is processed, Processors process personal data on behalf of a Controller, and data subjects are persons whose personal data is collected or used. Controllers within or outside of the EU are required to respond to requests from EU data subjects who ask to exercise their GDPR rights.

C70 collects and processes personal data relating to job applicants. C70 is committed to being transparent about how it collects and uses that data and to meeting its data protection obligations.

Information the organisation collects

C70 collects a range of information about you. This includes:

- your name, address and contact details, including email address and telephone number;
- details of your qualifications, skills, experience, employment history, training;
- whether or not you have a disability for which the organisation needs to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process;
- information about your entitlement to work in the UK;
- information about criminal convictions; and
- details of ethnic origin, disability, gender, sexuality, religion or belief.

The organisation may collect this information in a variety of ways. For example, data might be contained in application forms, CVs or resumes, obtained from your passport or other identity documents, or collected through interviews or other forms of assessment.

C70 may also collect personal data about you from third parties, such as references, information from criminal records checks. We will seek information from third parties only once a job offer to you has been made and will inform you that we are doing so.

Data will be stored in a range of different places, including on your application record, in HR management systems and on other IT systems (including email).

How the organisation processes your personal data

C70 needs to process data to assess your application and to enter into a contract with you.

In some cases, we need to process data to ensure we are complying with our legal obligations. For example, it is required to check a successful applicant's eligibility to work in the UK before employment starts.

We have a legitimate interest in processing personal data during the recruitment process and for keeping records of the process. Processing data from job applicants allows the organisation to manage the recruitment process, assess and confirm a candidate's suitability for employment and decide to whom to offer a job. The organisation may also need to process data from job applicants to respond to and defend against legal claims.

C70 may process special categories of data, such as information about ethnic origin, sexual orientation or religion or belief, to monitor recruitment statistics. It may also collect information about whether or not applicants are disabled to make reasonable adjustments for candidates who have a disability. C70 processes such information to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

For most roles, C70 is obliged to seek information about criminal convictions and offences. Where the organisation seeks this information, it does so because it is necessary for it to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment and a requirement of some funders.

C70 will not use your data for any purpose other than the recruitment exercise for which you have applied. Also, if your application is unsuccessful C70 may keep your personal data on file in case there are future employment opportunities for which you may be suited.

Who has access to data?

Your information may be shared internally for the purposes of the recruitment exercise. This includes admin staff, interviewers involved in the recruitment process, managers.

C70 will not share your data with third parties, unless your application for employment is successful and it makes you an offer of employment. C70 will then share your data with referees to obtain references for you, employment background check providers to obtain necessary background checks and to the Disclosure and Barring Service.

If you do not provide personal data

You are under no statutory or contractual obligation to provide data to the organisation during the recruitment process. However, if you do not provide the information, the organisation may not be able to process your application properly or at all.

Security of your information

C70 will take reasonable precautions to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of information you provide. All staff and volunteers who access your data have had data protection training to make sure your information is handled sensitively and securely.

C70 stores your information in case files and folders on secure servers and in C70 databases and ensures only authorised access with individual log ins and passwords. The data is backed up and secured securely. Your personal data is kept safe using strong passwords and encryption.

Where your data is processed

Your data is stored and processed within the EEA. If C70 ever has to share your personal data with third parties and suppliers outside the European Economic Area (EEA) C70 will ensure they evidence compliance with GDPR.

Retention Periods

C70 only keeps your data for as long as is necessary for the purpose(s) for which it was provided. Normally this is for 6 years after the interview or application date. If your application for employment is successful, personal data gathered during the recruitment process will be transferred to your personnel file and retained during your employment. You will be advised of these separately

Automated decision-making

Recruitment processes are not based on automated decision-making.

Your data, correction, deletion, change or preference

C70 need the information held about you to be accurate and up to date. Please advise promptly of any changes to your personal circumstances or details.

Please get in touch with us at manager@centre70.org.uk or call 020 8670 0070 if you would like to exercise your right:

- to update your details
- obtain a copy of the data C70 has for you
- want C70 to correct or update any information held about you
- if you want to stop receiving information about C70s services or the medium by which that information is communicated
- if you want to request deletion from C70s records
- if you have any questions

If you want to make a complaint

If you are not happy with how C70 has handled your data, you can make a complaint complaints@centre70.org.uk

You can also raise your concern with the Information Commissioner's office <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/handling/>

EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY DECLARATION

STATEMENT OF INTENT

Centre 70 (C70) declares its intention not to discriminate against anyone on the grounds of:

- (a) age;
- (b) disability;
- (c) race, colour, ethnic or national origins;
- (d) religion or belief;
- (e) gender or gender reassignment;
- (f) sexual orientation;
- (g) marital or civil partnership status;
- (h) pregnancy or maternity;
- (i) class;
- (j) caring responsibility.

In furtherance of this, Centre 70 will take positive steps to promote equality in the areas of:

- management
- recruitment and employment practices for paid staff
- recruitment and use of volunteers
- service provision
- instruction of experts/third parties
- opportunities for relevant training for employees and volunteers

C70 and its working groups intend to actively monitor and review the implementation of this policy. C70 believes these intentions are implicit in its constitution.

To ensure that the Equality and Diversity Policy is implemented, C70 has established the following policies:

- This Policy Statement on Equality and Diversity will be prominently displayed in the entrance lobby, and will be signed annually by all Board of Trustee members.
- C70s Board of Trustees and its sub-committees/sub-groups will regularly and actively monitor, and will annually review, the implementation of this policy, and will receive reports on any breach or alleged breach of these provisions. When reviewing the policy the Board will consider the outcome of monitoring and will take remedial action if non-compliance under this policy or barriers to equal opportunities are discovered.
- The Chair of the Board of Trustees is responsible for the Equality and Diversity policy and its effective implementation. It is the responsibility of the Board of Trustees to support and communicate the Policy. All workers must accept their personal responsibility to comply with the policy.
- It is the responsibility of each individual project leader to ensure that the C70 Equality and Diversity Policy is also reviewed in conjunction with the client base held for each project, together with the composition of the staff and volunteers working within the project.
- All those involved in the recruitment of new staff or of volunteers should be provided with training to ensure that they understand their responsibilities under the policy of C70 and the relevant legal requirements.

C70 will take appropriate disciplinary action against any worker who fails to follow the Equality and Diversity Policy. Disciplinary offences include deliberate acts of discrimination or harassment.
